

|  |                                                                                                                                                                            | EXPECTED RESULT                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ACTUAL RESULT                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|--|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  | Admin dashboard , supervisor dashboard , chat admin dashboard --> Active Chat Session – Chat window is incorrectly positioned and overlaps the dashboard content           | In the Admin dashboard , supervisor dashboard , Chat Admin Dashboard --> When an active chat session is opened, the chat window should be properly positioned within the designated chat area without overlapping | In the Admin dashboard , supervisor dashboard , Chat Admin Dashboard → Active Chat Session, when a chat is opened, the chat window appears incorrectly positioned and overlaps the dashboard content. The chat panel is partially outside the expected chat area and is not properly aligned within the page.                                                       |
|  | Bug Title: Patient profile picture is not displayed in the chat boxmodule : uatchatadmin -> chat -> my open chat and complete chat both                                | Patient's profile picture should be displayed in the chat box, similar to the Doctor's profile picture.                                                                                                           | In MyCarePedia, the Doctor's profile picture is displayed successfully. However, the Patient's profile picture is not displayed in the chat box on uatchatadmin portal.                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|  | Bug : in mycarepedia patient chat box there is one SMS switch. if enable or disable not any differencemodule : mycarepedia -> dr search -> open chat box -> SMS switch |                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | patient chat box while enable or disable the SMS switch, the alert come like SUCCESSFULLY DONE. but not any difference                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|  | Bug Title: Keyboard closes after selecting each emoji in UatchatAdmin chatModule: uatchatadmin -> chat -> Emoji                                                        | After selecting an emoji, the keyboard/emoji picker should remain open so that users can select multiple emojis continuously without reopening it each time.                                                      | In MyCarePedia chat, when the emoji section is opened and an emoji is selected, the keyboard remains open, allowing users to select multiple emojis continuously.However, in UatchatAdmin chat, after selecting a single emoji, the keyboard closes automatically. The user has to reopen the emoji section/keyboard every time before selecting another emoji. |